United States Code Containing the General and Permanent Laws of the United States, Enacted Through the 112th Congress (ending January 2, 2013, the Last Law of which was Signed on January 15, 2013) "The United States Code is the official codification of the general and permanent laws of the United States of America. The Code was first published in 1926, and a new edition of the code has been published every six years since 1934. The 2012 edition of the Code incorporates laws enacted through the One Hundred Twelfth Congress, Second Session, the last of which was signed by the President on January 15, 2013. It does not include laws of the One Hundred Thirteenth Congress, First Session, enacted between January 2, 2013, the date it convened, and January 15, 2013. By statutory authority this edition may be cited "U.S.C. 2012 ed." As adopted in 1926, the Code established prima facie the general and permanent laws of the United States. The underlying statutes reprinted in the Code remained in effect and controlled over the Code in case of any discrepancy. In 1947, Congress began enacting individual titles of the Code into positive law. When a title is enacted into positive law, the underlying statutes are repealed and the title then becomes legal evidence of the law. Currently, 26 of the 51 titles in the Code have been so enacted. These are identified in the table of titles near the beginning of each volume. The Law Revision Counsel of the House of Representatives continues to prepare legislation pursuant to 2 U.S.C. 285b to enact the remainder of the Code, on a title-by-title basis, into positive law. The 2012 edition of the Code was prepared and published under the supervision of Ralph V. Seep, Law Revision Counsel. Grateful acknowledgment is made of the contributions by all who helped in this work, particularly the staffs of the Office of the Law Revision Counsel and the Government Printing Office"--Preface. Key Tools for Human Resource Management (Collection) FT Press HR managers are under intense pressure to become strategic business partners. Many, unfortunately, lack the technical skills in financial analysis to succeed in this role. Now, respected HR management educator Dr. Steven Director addresses this skill gap head-on. Writing from HR's viewpoint, Director covers everything mid-level and senior-level HR professionals need to know to formulate, model, and evaluate their HR initiatives from a financial and business perspective. Drawing on his unsurpassed expertise working with HR executives, he walks through each crucial financial issue associated with strategic talent management, including the quantifiable links between workforces and business value, the cost-benefit analysis of HR and strategic financial initiatives, and specific issues related to total rewards programs. Unlike finance books for non-financial managers, Financial Analysis for HR Managers focuses entirely on core HR issues. ¿ More than ever before, HR practitioners must empirically demonstrate a clear link between their practices and firm performance. In Investing in People , Wayne F. Cascio and John W. Boudreau show exactly how to choose, implement, and use metrics to improve decision-making, optimize organizational effectiveness, and maximize the value of HR investments. They provide powerful techniques for looking inside the HR "black box," implementing human capital metrics that track the effectiveness of talent policies and practices, demonstrating the logical connections to financial and line-of-business, and using HR metrics to drive more effective decision-making. Using their powerful "LAMP" methodology (Logic, Analytics, Measures, and Process), the authors demonstrate how to measure and analyze the value of every area of HR that impacts strategic value. Next, Biswas thoroughly addresses the acquisition component of compensation, as well as issues related to general compensation, equity compensation, and pension accounting. He assesses the full financial impact of executive compensation programs and employee benefit plans, and discusses the unique issues associated with international HR systems and programs. This book contains a full chapter on HR key indicator reporting, and concludes with detailed coverage of trends in human resource accounting, and the deepening linkages between financial and HR planning. This NAO report focuses on two key issues: whether enough is being done to identify and support schools that show signs of deteriorating performance; and whether the measures being taken to address poor performance are effective to ensure continued improvement in 'recovered' schools. The effectiveness of national initiatives and local actions are assessed and examples of good practice from schools that have been successfully turned around are highlighted. Recommendations made include the need for: the DfES and local authorities to combine efforts to identify schools at risk and intervene before schools fail; schools to prioritise school leadership and to establish a positive culture centred on teaching and learning; and Ofsted to carry out more frequent inspections of vulnerable or poorly performing schools. The report places particular emphasis on the promotion of sustainable development, as the country gives a high priority to this issue. Fiscal Year 2007 Performance and Accountability Report This document represents the annual report card of the U.S. Department of Education's efforts and outcomes during fiscal year 2007. This year's report builds on efforts to increase transparency, and more effectively communicate goals and objectives. The report emphasizes achievements and challenges associated with implementing the Department of Education's new mission statement: to promote student achievement and preparation for global competitiveness by fostering educational excellence and ensuring equal access. The report includes required information and assurances about the Department's financial management systems and management controls. These systems and controls provide reasonable assurance that the objectives of the "Federal Manager's Financial Integrity Act of 1982" are being met, with two exceptions related to Information Security and Program Management Controls that are discussed. The Department is setting high expectations for itself with the creation of crosscutting goals focused on excellent management practices, fiscal integrity, and a culture of high performance. In support of these management goals, the Department has invested significantly in developing a Department-wide management tool designed to ensure that strategic priorities are aligned across the principal offices, that high standards of performance are set, and that the Department achieves its commitments. The report includes: (1) Message From the Secretary; (2) Management's Discussion and Analysis (Our Mission; History and Organization; Our Customers; Performance Results and Highlights; Data Quality; Financial Highlights; "President's Management Agenda" - Scorecard Results; Future Initiatives and Management Challenges; Integration of Performance and Financial Information; Management's Assurances; Improper Payments Overview); (3) Performance Details (Performance Details Overview; Goal 1: Create a Culture of Achievement; Goal 2: Improve Student Achievement; Goal 3: Develop Safe and Drug-Free Schools; Goal 4: Transform Education Into an Evidence-Based Field; Goal 5: Enhance the Quality of and Access to Postsecondary and Adult Education; Goal 6: Establish Management Excellence; Summary of Inspector General and Government Accountability Office Reports); (4) Financial Details (Message From the Chief Financial Officer; Financial Summary; Limitations of Financial Statements; Principal Financial Statements; Notes to Principal Financial Statements; Required Supplementary Information; Required Supplementary Stewardship Information; Report of the Independent Auditors); and (5) Other Accompanying Information (Improper Payments Information Act Reporting Details; Report to Congress on Audit Follow-up; Credit Management and Debt Collection Improvement Act; Management Challenges for Fiscal Year 2008; Summary of Financial Statement Audit and Management Assurance.)
